This report is a collaboration between The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven, Valley Community Foundation, the Regional Labor Market Analysis Advisory Group, and Blakely Consulting LLC.

In addition, this project was supported by a diverse network of local workforce development stakeholders, community-based organizations, job seekers and employers, each of which offered their expertise and lived experiences adding richness and depth to the report on the state of the labor market within the Greater New Haven and Valley regions from January to June 2023. We are grateful for the many community contributors to this report and are proud to present a report that represents so many different voices and perspectives in the work.
