Trust Based Evaluation & Results Based Accountability Frameworks

Trust Based Framework for Learning & Evaluation

Three Strategies for Understanding Impact

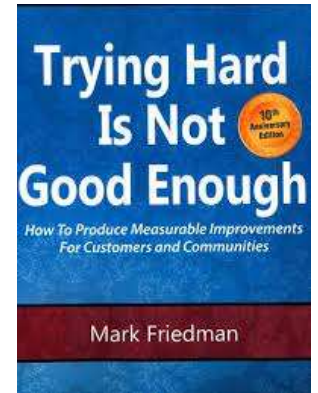

1. Learning for Accountability
2. Learning for Decision Making
3. Learning for Long-Term Impact

“Impact measurement as an opportunity to learn about what is working and what’s not” -- on BOTH ends

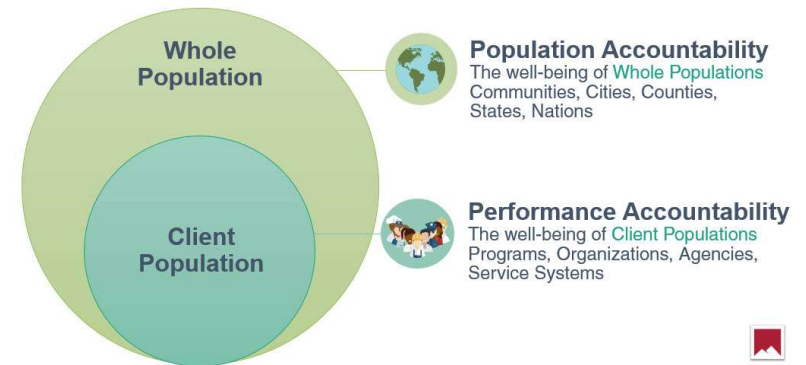

<https://www.trustbasedphilanthropy.org/resources-articles/tbp-cei-learning-evaluation-framework>

Results Based Accountability

- Developed by Mark Friedman, Fiscal Policies Studies Inst., (2005)
- Licensed to Clear Impact

- Starts at the end, asking what changes you want to see? What is different and is anyone or anything better off?
- Whole Population vs Client Population

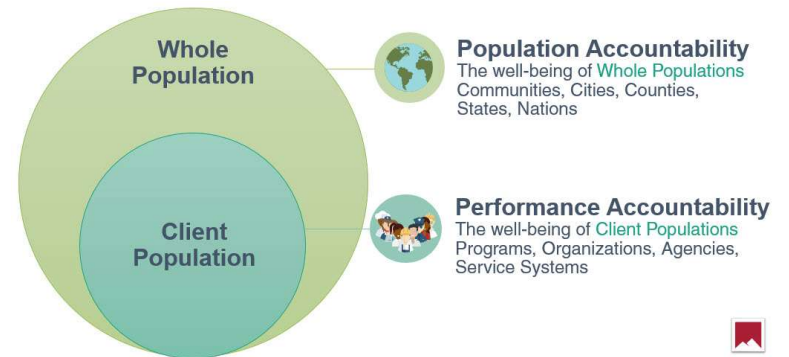

<https://clearimpact.com/>

Results Based Accountability

- Population Accountability → Community Indicators

- Performance Accountability → Performance or Outcome Measures

- How much did we do?
- How well did we do it?
- Is anyone better off?

Performance Accountability

QUANTITY		QUALITY
Effort	How much did we do?	How well did we do it?
	# of people served # of services/activities	% satisfied % served well
Effect	Is anyone better off? What is the change (▲)?

			Outcomes

Key Terms

Goals

Broad statements describing the change a project aims to create in response to a social issue, without using numerical targets.

Activities

The specific actions a program carries out to engage participants and deliver its services.

Outcomes

The meaningful changes in knowledge, skills, attitudes, behaviors, or circumstances that result from the program.

Outcome Measures

The numerical indicators used to show whether the intended outcomes were achieved.

Goals describe the broad, long-term change a project hopes to contribute to in the community. Outcomes describe the specific, measurable changes that participants experience because of the program.
